DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Spring Greetings!

Larry (Smiley) Shorter

Well, I hope All is going well and we are all enjoying the rides that have been planned by our Road Captains. When you see your road captains please thank them for all the hard work they put into planning. I would also like to share some news that we now have an activities committee they are in process of getting some events planned for us this year. I would like to thank Maury Wiese, Elle Shorter, Curt Wellington, John and Teresa Sullivan for volunteering, I look forward to seeing their plans for us. I would like to bring up that we are also in process of setting up grilling dates, breakfast dates and bake sales. We recently had our first bake sell at the Demo Days in which our volunteers were able to raise over 400 dollars, I feel very successful event. I would like to thank Elle Shorter, Mary farina, and John and Teresa Sullivan for baking and selling for our chapter. I would also like to bring up the volunteers who helped with Demo Days. Please thank all our road captains that volunteered and the volunteers we had to help register the demo riders. We will be putting out volunteer sheets to sign up for our Upcoming dates and I would appreciate if we could get some volunteers to help the chapter with these dates / events. I am looking forward to our HOG Chapter Reunion Picnic that will have been on March 10th, 2024. Starting in April I will be sending out the invitation to our teams virtual meeting that we now have with the general meeting. This is so that if you can't make it to the meeting, you can still attend. This will be in the blast soon. Well, I hope we have a great spring and good and safe riding weather.

We have formed a new Activities Committee – Maury Wiese, Elle Shorter, Curt Wellington and John and Teresa Sullivan

Ride safe and enjoy your rides!

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Spring has Sprung!

Hello Ladies and Gentlemen of HOG!

Happy Spring and welcome Daylight Saving Time! The weather has been perfect for riding lately. We're experiencing very good participation on both Wednesday and Saturday rides. It's been great to see all of our seasonal friends return, and also many new members. Some of our road captains who enjoy taking longer rides have very nice destinations planned. We hope you can participate!

With our new board in place for 2024, we anticipate some new activities to be offered to our members. Stay tuned and keep an eye out for your weekly HOG blast.

If you have any questions or suggestions for anything that makes your HOG experience more fulfilling and enjoyable, please let any one of your officers know. We are always looking for new and exciting experiences to make your membership the best it can be. And always remember, LIFE IS A JOURNEY, ENJOY THE RIDE!

We're off to a great beginning for 2024 with a great variety of weekly rides, short rides, long rides, rides to classic car/bike shows, rides to museums and a ride to Hard Rock Hotel and an evening ice cream ride.

A very sincere thanks to all Road Captains for volunteering so much of your time. A lot of work goes on behind the scenes to plan and organize every chapter ride. In addition, the Road Captains go above and beyond the normal call of duty to escort demo rides, grilling and assisting with events when called upon by Rockstar dealership.

Road Captains appreciate when riders and passengers follow the group riding rules and obey all traffic and safety guidelines. For those of you who ride often, our pre-ride briefings may sound repetitious. Some may think them to be patronizing. Bear with us. We often have new riders, guest riders and riders who don't ride often on most of our rides. It is the Lead Road Captain's responsibility to assure that everyone understands the rules and procedures on our chapter group rides. Hence the necessity of the Pre-ride briefings. For everyone's safety the Pre-Ride briefings, including all aspects of the ride, will always be the way the way we initiate a chapter group ride, You get out of your chapter membership what you're willing to put forth into it. Contact Larry Burgess if you'd like to become a Rockstar H.O.G. Road Captain.

SAFETY OFFICER'S MESSAGE

15 Smart Strategies for Streets - Part #2

6/Be Ready With the Power

In traffic, ride in a gear lower than you normally would so your bike is ready to jump forward instantly if asked. (Not everyone rides open-class twins, after all.) Doing so gives you the option of leaping ahead instead of being limited to just using the brakes when that pickup suddenly moves over. The higher revs might also alert more cagers to your presence.

7/Traffic Slowing? Stay Left (Or Right)

When traffic slows suddenly, stay to the left or right of the car in front of you. This will give you an escape route if needed. It will also help keep you from becoming a hood ornament if the car behind you fails to stop in time. Once you've stopped, be ready--clutch in, your bike in gear and your eyes on the mirrors. You never know.

8/Practice the Scan

Constantly scanning your entire environment while riding--from instruments to mirrors to the road ahead to blind spots to your left and right rear--keeps you aware and in touch with your situation, and therefore better able to react. Dwelling on one area too long--watching only behind or in front of you, for instance--is just begging for trouble.

9/Left-Turn Treachery

When approaching an oncoming car that's stopped and about to turn left, be ready. Your brights should be on so the driver can see you (during the day), but don't rely on this to save you. Watch the car's wheels or the driver's hands on the steering wheel; if you see movement, be ready to brake, swerve or accelerate, whichever seems best for the situation.

10/Study the Surface

Add asphalt conditions to your scan. Be on the lookout for spilled oil, antifreeze or fuel; it'll usually show up as shiny pavement. Also keep an eye out for gravel and/or sand, which is usually more difficult to see. Use your sense of smell, too; often you can smell spilled diesel fuel before your tires discover how slippery the stuff is.

11/Ride In Open Zones

Use your bike's power and maneuverability to ride in open zones in traffic. In any grouping of vehicles there are always some gaps; find these and ride in them. Doing so will separate you from four-wheelers, give you additional room to maneuver and allow you to keep away from dangerous blind spots. And vary your speed. Riding along with the flow can make you invisible to other drivers, especially in heavy traffic.

12/Use That Thumb

Get into the habit of canceling your turn signals often regardless of the traffic situation.

A blinking signal might tell drivers waiting to pull into the road or turning left in front of you that you're about to turn when you aren't. So push that switch a few times each minute. Better to wear out the switch than eat a Hummer's hood, eh?

13/It's Good To Be Thin

A huge advantage single-track vehicles have over four-wheelers is their ability to move left and right within a lane to enable the rider to see what's ahead. Whether you're looking to the side of the cars ahead or through their windshields, seeing what's coming can give you lots of extra time to react.

14/More Than One Way Out

Yeah, motorcycles fall down. But they're also light, narrow and hugely maneuverable, so you might as well learn to exploit their strengths when things get ugly, right? So don't just brake hard in a hairball situation. There's almost always an escape route. Swerving into Mrs. Smith's front yard could be a lot better than center-punching the Buick that turned left in front of you. Always have an escape route planned, and update it minute by minute.

15/Running Interference

This one's easy, and we'll bet most of you already do it: Let larger vehicles run interference for you when negotiating intersections. If the bonehead coming toward you from the left or right is going to blow the light, better they hit the box van next to you, right? For the same reasons, don't lunge through an intersection as soon as the light turns green. Be patient, and use the vehicles next to you as cover.
